Giant's Causeway

- A natural rock formation in Northern Ireland
- Made of about 37,000 basalt columns
- Formed 50–60 million years ago by volcanic activity
- Most columns have a hexagon shape
- Listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site
- Legend says it was built by the giant Finn McCool

Causeway y Coastal Route

- A scenic driving route along the north-eastern coast of Northern Ireland.
- It connects Belfast with Derry/Londonderry.
- Length: approx. 185 km / 115 miles.
- It leads through cliffs, valleys, beaches, castles, and famous rock formations.

Dunluce Castle

- Ruins of a medieval castle perched on the cliffs of Northern Ireland's north coast.
- Built in the 13th century, later becoming the seat of the McDonnell clan.
- Part of the castle collapsed into the sea in 1639, becoming a well-known local

Carrick-a-Rede

- The bridge links the mainland to the tiny island of Carrickarede
- Suspended almost 100 ft (30 m) above sea level
- Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge was first erected by salmon fishermen in 1755
- It spans 20

Fun Fact

- Many locations on the Causeway Coast were used to film Game of Thrones.

Shaun the Sheep

- I wonder if the creators of Shaun the Sheep were inspired by the sheep that live on the Causeway Coast?
